Money

In our second focus on money, we are going to consider the imbalance of money and why it is important to think of others, being grateful for what we have and donating to worthy causes when we can.

Listen to the poem on the right that your tutor will read and think of occasions when we should be grateful, even in times of struggle.

Be Thankful

Be thankful that you don't already have everything you desire,
If you did, what would there be to look forward to?

Be thankful when you don't know something
For it gives you the opportunity to learn.

Be thankful for the difficult times.

During those times you grow.

Be thankful for your limitations
Because they give you opportunities for improvement.

Be thankful for each new challenge
Because it will build your strength and character.

Be thankful for your mistakes
They will teach you valuable lessons.

Be thankful when you're tired and weary
Because it means you've made a difference.

It is easy to be thankful for the good things.
A life of rich fulfillment comes to those who are also thankful for the setbacks.

GRATITUDE can turn a negative into a positive.

Find a way to be thankful for your troubles
and they can become your blessings.

Q- What would you do with £100/$100?

Watch the following clip which captures what this sort of money means to other people.

For Alice Jim, $100 is almost as much as she earns in a month in her job as a housemaid in Zimbabwe.

As part of the World Service Money & Power season the BBC has been asking people around the world how they might use an unexpected cash windfall. The answers reveal much about who we are, where we live and the buying power of money?

Q- So, what would it mean for Alice who dreams of building a home for her family?

Looking at the images can be painful and very emotional because we do not like seeing others suffer.

Q- So what can we do about those who have not got enough money to live good lives?

Q- When was the last time you donated money or items to a good cause? Share this with the class.

Q- They say 'money talks', so how can we make sure money does the right thing and improves lives for those less fortunate than us?
